Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is with extreme pride that we announce the opening of our third Charlie Mom Chinese Cuisine now serving Midtown Manhattan on 1st Avenue, between 77th and 78th Streets.

During the past eight years, our two Charlie Mom's in Greenwich Village have increasingly received high praises from countless discriminating clients. We strongly emphasize a wide variety of delicious dishes, commendable services at reasonable prices. We feature an open-kitchen concept, and were the first Oriental restaurant offering brown rice for health conscious customers.

We have created such eye-appealing and palate-pleasing dishes as Tangerine Beef, Three Class Chicken and Fruits of the Sea to satisfy our sophisticated patrons demanding delicious and nutritionally balanced meals. Our menu is constantly expanding reflect the suggestions of our clients and staff members.

And for your private dining pleasure, we offer prompt, free delivery. Meals prepared with the same care and culinary skill you would enjoy at the restaurant.

We invite you and your friends to share the unique Charlie Mom's gourmet experience.

Chef Ho's artistry ...

pleasing to the connoisseur,

the conservative

and the daring.

Chinese food has come of age, and the Chinese restaurant has become more than a place for Sunday's dinner and quick take-out. New York's discerning palates have popularized the different tastes of China's provinces, most recently, it seems Hunan cuisine.

One of the newest restaurants on the Upper East Side is Chef Ho's Hunan house 1546 3rd Avenue (corner 87th St.) Although it has just opened its doors, Chef Ho has been in New York long enough to make quite an impression on critics and patrons alike. In the process, he also helped to establish followings for some of the best Chinese restaurants in the city.

When reviewing the Fortune Garden, New York Magazine's Gael Greene sampled some of what she called Chef Ho's "artistry", and gave the restaurant 2 1/2 stars. As well as the Fortune Garden, Chinese food lovers have been treated to Chef Ho's delights at David K's and Uncle Tai's Hunan Yuan.

Chef Ho's Menu is much more interesting than most: a combination of old favorites with a touch of the gourmet. Selections like Sliced Venison with Garlic Sauce (in season), Ho's beef with orange flavor, and shrimp with Ho's special sauce (2 flavors) make it easy to please the connoisseur, the conservative and the daring.

Now that Chef Ho has opened his own place, everyone can be assured that he will have a hand in the preparation of each dish that comes to your table, or to your home, as the Hunan House does deliver free of charge (348-9444). The price is reasonable and there is a special luncheon package. At present, reservations are not necessary.

Chef Ho's Chinese Restaurant now has only ONE in New York City. That's Chef Ho's Hunan House
